THE STATE OF ILLINOIS CAPITAL DEVELOPMENT BOAD

PRE OUTREACH MEETING ON PROJECT CDB 830-030-162 UIC CDRLC

Computer Design, Research, and Learning Center at the University of Illinois Chicago

The new 135,000 SFT Computer Design, Research, and Learning Center (CDRLC) at University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC) will consolidate the currently fragmented Computer & Science Department in a new home. It will co locate it with a large cluster of university-administered classrooms at the heart of the east campus. The CDRLC will include a 1,200 SFT robotics lab and 16,000 SFT of classroom space. It will be the new home for UIC's Electronic Visualization Laboratory, an internationally renowned interdisciplinary research lab.

We invite you to join us virtually on Thursday, August 20, 2020 at 10:15am (CDT)
