CHICAGO CHILDREN'S MUSEUM TO HOST NATIONAL ADOPTION DAY CELEBRATION IN PARTNERSHIP WITH ILLINOIS DEPARTMENT OF CHILDREN AND FAMILY SERVICES

Chicago, IL — There are more than 110,000 children in the foster care system nationwide and in Illinois nearly 1,400 children await adoption into permanent, loving homes. Chicago Children's Museum is the first cultural institution in Illinois to partner with Illinois Department of Children and Family Services to celebrate the creation of new families by adoption on National Adoption Day. More than 500 adoptive family members are expected to attend the celebration on Saturday, November 10 from 5-8pm at Chicago Children's Museum.

National Adoption Day is a collective nationwide effort to raise awareness of the children in foster care. Chicago Children's Museum (CCM) and Illinois Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS) partnered to honor these new families in an evening of play-filled fun.

"The creation of families always calls for a celebration," said CCM President and CEO Jennifer Farrington. "We are proud to partner with DCFS to commemorate this important milestone of beginnings for these families."

The celebration will open with welcoming comments from DCFS Guardian Janet Ahern, congratulating the newly formed families. Following the proceedings, families will be able to enjoy Chicago Children's Museum's programs and exhibits.

National Adoption Day is an annual event to raise public awareness of the need for adoptive homes and celebrate the families and children whose adoptions were finalized in the past year. Thanks to thousands of adoptive parents across Illinois, more than 15,000 children have found permanent homes during the last decade, including more than 2000 children in the last year alone.
