Neil Jordan. Staff Vacancies, Complex Trauma and Youth Experiences in Illinois Child Welfare Residential Treatment.

Using administrative data to evaluate the impact of the staff turnover in residential facilities for youth outcomes (significant events). Trauma data would be used to that the outcomes for youth with complex trauma – CANS would be used as background information.

Interesting proposition for us to know more about. Not sure that this has been studied in that way. Not very much on this particular type of study. Very important contribution.

Strong procedures for keeping the data confidential.

Looks good.

MOTION: Kim Mann motioned to approve the proposal.

Christina Chojnacki seconded the proposed motion and a unanimous vote from the remaining board members carried the motion.
