The Illinois Department of Juvenile Justice (IDJJ) is a state agency responsible for youth committed to its care as a sentence for a delinquent offense. IDJJ includes both secure confinement and community-based aftercare services. More information about IDJJ is available at http://idjj.illinois.gov/.

The Illinois Juvenile Justice Commission (IJJC) is an advisory group responsible for administering federal juvenile justice grants, ensuring compliance with the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act, and advising the Governor and General Assembly on matters of juvenile justice. More information about IJJC is available at http://ijjc.illinois.gov.

The IJJC commissioned the Center for Prevention Research and Development (CPRD) at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, to create this report. CPRD seeks to support public policy in three ways: improving state and community capacity for prevention; improving prevention and educational practices through research and evaluation; and improving policies and decision making. More information about CPRD is available at http://www.cprd.illinois.edu.

CPRD created tables in this report using data published by IDJJ on its website http://www.illinois.gov/idjj/Pages/AboutUs.aspx. This data comes from IDJJ’s Juvenile Tracking System (JTS) with the exception of the education data, which is received by IDJJ directly from the Illinois Youth Centers.
