There was extensive discussion on the offender population management. The National Institute of Corrections will fund a study for reclassification. Court writs were discussed to lower staff costs and court appearances.
Family interaction support – Video visitation sites will be at all IDOC facilities and possibly even parole offices to expand sites for families.

American Correctional Association accreditation – Chief of Audits Bill Marshall provided an accreditation schedule for the next three years at the last meeting. It included three facilities for assessment each quarter which will minimize litigation issues.
