Supervisor Williams attended to National Liquor Law Enforcement Association's annual conference in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. This conference brought together liquor law enforcement agencies from across the nation to discuss current trends, future concerns and challenges, and methods to address those issues.

Enforcement conducted 759 inspections and found 382 violations in the month of September. Enforcement issued 99 warnings during new license inspections.

Underage Compliance Checks were conducted in partnership with the Peoria Police Department. 15 establishments were checked, 4 prior violators were retested, and 4 establishments failed the compliance check. None of those that failed were prior violators.

ILCC enforcement continues to monitor online sales of alcohol. Craigslist has the largest volume of illegal alcohol for sale online, with OfferUp, and Facebook Marketplace in the running.

Commissioner Gibbons asked about Underage Compliances due to a lack of participants. CEO Peterson indicated that the issue continues to be the lengthy CMS process for hiring and that the ILCC is continuing to work on streamlining the process to be similar to the Illinois State Police.

Commissioner Pulido-Sanchez indicated that the upcoming College Town Summit might be a potential opportunity to UAC recruitment.

Additionally, we made changes to our liquor licenses, due to an increase in unlawful altering of the licenses. We now have a watermark and a QR code on the license, which will allow investigators to view the official license on record within the agency.
