Form IL-941-X Instructions

What is New?

- The format of the Form IL-941-X, Amended Illinois Withholding Income Tax Return and Instructions, has changed to coordinate with the new Form IL-941, a full-page return, which is easier to complete and asks for additional information. In addition, we have removed Column B, net change increase or decrease.

Who must file Form IL-941-X?

You must complete Form IL-941-X only if you need to correct amounts on certain lines you reported on a previously filed Form IL-941 or IL-941-X in reporting

- Line 1, amounts subject to withholding, or
- Line 2, total Illinois Income Tax actually withheld (including any excess amount withheld). In previous years, the line stated "Illinois Income Tax required to be withheld."

When shouldn't I file Form IL-941-X?

Do not file IL-941-X if you reported the amount you actually withheld, even if you withheld the wrong amount. If you discover an error in withholding before the end of the year, you should correct the error by adjusting the amount you withhold.

If you cannot correct the error before the end of the year, you must make sure that your withholding tax return and the employee's Form W-2 report the actual amount withheld. If you withheld too much, the employee will receive a refund on his or her income tax return and if you withheld too little, the employee will receive a smaller refund or owe tax on his or her income tax return.

Note If you made the same reporting error on your return and your employee's Form W-2, you must also provide your employee with a corrected Form W-2-C and attach copies of the W-2-C forms to your IL-941-X.

When is Form IL-941-X due?

You should report increases in your tax due immediately to minimize penalties and interest. If your change decreases your tax due, file IL-941-X no later than

- three years after the 15th day of the 4th month following the close of the calendar year in which the tax was withheld, or
- one year after the date the tax was paid.

You may be assessed penalties and interest if your IL-941-X is filed after the due date of your original return. If so, we will send you a notice.

What are the penalties and interest?

Penalties — You will owe a

- late-payment penalty if you do not pay the tax you owe by the original due date of the return;
- late-filing penalty if you do not file a processable return by the extended due date;
- bad check penalty of $25 if your remittance is not honored by your financial institution; and
- cost of collection fee if you do not pay the amount you owe within 30 days of the date printed on any bill we send you.

Interest — is calculated on unpaid tax from the day after the original due date of your return through the date you pay the tax. We will bill you for penalties and interest.

For more information about penalties and interest, see Publication 103, Penalties and Interest for Illinois Taxes.

Which steps must I complete?

You must complete every step to report changes previously reported on your IL-941 or IL-941-X. If we agree that you have a valid overpayment, it will first be applied to any outstanding withholding income tax liabilities and then may be refunded or applied as you request on future IL-941s.
