ORDER

This matter coming before the Commission by a panel of three, Commissioners Nabi R. Fakroddin, Hermene Hartman, and Eleni Bousis presiding, upon Deborah Williams’s (“Petitioner”) Request for Review (“Request”) of the Notice of Dismissal issued by the Illinois Department of Human Rights (“Respondent”)¹ of Charge No. 2012CF2542 and the Commission having reviewed all pleadings filed in accordance with 56 Ill. Admin. Code, Ch. XI, Subpt. D, § 5300.400, and the Commission being fully advised upon the premises;

NOW, THEREFORE, it is hereby ORDERED that the Respondent’s dismissal of the Petitioner’s charge for LACK OF JURISDICTION is SUSTAINED.

DISCUSSION

On December 13, 2011, the Petitioner filed a charge of discrimination with the Respondent alleging that Chicago Board of Education (“Employer”) discharged her due to her race in violation of Section 2-102(A) of the Illinois Human Rights Act (“Act”). On November 20, 2012, the Respondent dismissed the Petitioner’s charge for lack of jurisdiction. The Petitioner filed a timely Request.

The Commission concludes that the Respondent properly dismissed the Petitioner’s charge for lack of jurisdiction. The Act provides that a charge must be filed within 180 days after the date that a civil rights violation allegedly has been committed. 775 ILCS 5/7A-102(A). This requirement is jurisdictional, meaning that if the Petitioner does not file his charge within the 180 day time limit, neither the Respondent nor the Commission have the jurisdiction to proceed on the charge. Trembczynski v. Human Rights Comm’n, 252 Ill. App. 3d 966, 969 (1st Dist. 1993).

The Petitioner admitted during the investigation that she received notice that her contract would not be renewed on January 29, 2011. As this date is more than 180 days prior to her date of filing, neither the Respondent nor the Commission have the jurisdiction to consider the merits of the charge.

Accordingly, the Petitioner has not presented any evidence to show that the Respondent’s dismissal of the charge was not in accordance with the Act.

THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

1. The dismissal of the Petitioner's charge is hereby SUSTAINED.
2. This is a final Order. A final Order may be appealed to the Appellate Court by filing a petition for review, naming the Illinois Human Rights Commission, the Illinois Department of Human Rights, and Chicago Board of Education as respondents, with the Clerk of the Appellate Court within 35 days after the date of service of this Order.
