Subject: Energy Website

Anthony and Michael,

I wanted to bring you into some discussions that we have started with Chantale LaCasse at NERA. ComEd was sent a letter from ISDA demanding that we remove the ISDA form contracts from the ComEd Energy RFP websites. Those contracts had been used for the procurement of the long-term renewables. Thinking that the website and the documents belonged to NERA/IPA, we contacted Chantale and informed her of the ISDA demand. However, as it turns out, the website is actually registered to ComEd. That is why ISDA wrote the letter to ComEd.

So, now we are discussing what to do about the documents and the website. Our trademark attorney, who has been the one discussing the matter with ISDA, is contacting them to see what a licensing agreement might cost. There really is no requirement in either the PUA or the IPA Act that we maintain these documents in a public fashion after a procurement event, but it is convenient. So, we can discuss if we should keep and who should do that. In addition, we should also discuss migrating to the use of a IPA owned website in the future, and perhaps transferring all of the other documents on the ComEd website to that one.

Once our trademark attorney finishes her discussion with ISDA we will arrange another call to discuss. I will be sure to include you.
